Square Dancing Is Popular In County

Traditional square dancing is in full swing in Jefferson County. Al Root has been calling and teaching square figures in Jefferson County for the past two months. Lyndon, Jeffersonstown, St. Matthews and Valley have been and are to be the tunes of "Turkey in the Straw," "Old Dan Tucker," "Duck for the Oyster," "Pop Goes the Weasel," etc.

The Lyndon Square Dance is in full swing. Al Root has been calling and teaching square figures in Jefferson County for the past two months. Lyndon, Jeffersonstown, St. Matthews and Valley have been and are to be the tunes of "Turkey in the Straw," "Old Dan Tucker," "Duck for the Oyster," "Pop Goes the Weasel," etc.

O. H. Crew and his fiddle accompanied by Miss Doris Deffenbach, at the piano, and Miss Barbara Hoffman and Miss Yanna Yanna played music for the figures and calls.

A. Lake Brown, board member, has attended a number of the sessions and is becoming very adept at the various figures.

The next square dance at Lyndon will be held May 16. If you want to join in the fun, call Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dodson, Lyndon.

Commissioner White Leans Over Backward

From the recent exchange of letters between County Commissioner E. P. White, Jr., and County Road Engineer W. B. Robards, in regard to resurfacing Gilmore Lane, it appears that the commissioner has become extremely sensitive to the criticism of the Louisville dailies.

According to Robards, the road on which Commissioner White resides was included in the list of projected repairs, because of actual need and not at any suggestion of White. However, when the Courier-Journal mentioned that Gilmore Lane ran by the commissioner's ranch, White requested Robards to delete the road from the list of the county's repair program.

Following the letter written by White to Robards, the latter resubmitted the list of repairs, pointing out that the repairs were necessary and that the commissioner's residence on the road was not a factor in the decision. Here is Robards' letter addressed to White:

Dear Sir: This will acknowledge your letter of April 26th, requesting that Gilmore Lane be dropped from this year's Resurfacing Program. Unless you, or any of the residents along any of the roads proposed for resurfacing, have written me, I did not consult you prior to putting this road on our Resurfacing Program, nor have I consulted any of the residents along any of the roads proposed for resurfacing. The whole Program was prepared on the basis of necessary repairs only. I might call your attention to the fact that this road is a Rural Highway and our present plans are to resurface it and others with Rural Highway funds. If we do not resurface a Rural Highway when it is needed, the State Highway Department reserves the right to County Building To Be Utilized After A Number of Years of Idleness as Interim Haven For Those Whose Homes Are Disrupted.

A handsome brick building in excellent condition after a number of years without occupants, on the County Home grounds at Jeffersonstown, is in the process of complete renovation and furnishing for the reception of young children, who are temporarily homeless because of broken families.

Built at a cost of $30,000, and capable of housing 30 children and a supervising staff, the project will be known as "Sunshine Lodge" and the sponsoring agencies will include the Fiscal Court, the County Welfare Department, the Children's Center and various civic and fraternal groups.

County Welfare Director W. M. Pennycook and County Judge Barker are responsible for the inception of the plan in which William Pine, superintendent of the Children's Center, and Robert Speckman, chief probationary officer, became actively interested.

In common with the procedure generally adopted, children, whose only fault was to have badly adjusted parents, have been placed in private homes or in an institution, often coming in contact with juvenile delinquents and to some extent stamped with the stigma that attends those children processed through the courts as incorrigibles.

Under the new plan, the first to be adopted in the nation, these younger children, under 12 years of age, will be sent to "Sunshine Lodge" where, during their stay of several days or several weeks at the most, they will be tenderly and sympathetically cared for until definite arrangements are made for their care. Some will be adopted or others returned to homes that have been reformed.

"We hope," said Pennycook, "to make this a model example of the best methods of meeting the problem of these children. Wholesome food, clean clothes, medical care and entertainment will be provided. All agencies are co-operating to make the stay at 'Sunshine Lodge' comfortable and even happy for these young boys and girls."

"In addition to county department, a number of fraternal and civic organizations have indicated their desire to help by furnishing rooms and equipment."

The Shawnee Kiwanis Club will furnish one room, the Order of Moose have offered to sponsor room for four boys, and it is our hope that other groups will join in this plan to make this home an outstanding experiment in social service," Pennycook said.

The lodge sits on an elevation just outside of Jeffersonstown and overlooks the countryside for miles. There are fifteen acres in the site with a number of large trees. The grounds are being graded now.

Dedication exercises are planned for sometime in June. The principal address will be delivered by Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of men at the University of Kentucky, who will speak on "Building For World Peace."

The valedictory will be given by Carroll Schoenbachler, and the salutatory by Martha Williams. Carroll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Starnum, of route 2, Louisville, and will enter either the Louisville College or the University of Kentucky at Omaha, Nebraska, this fall. Martha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of Corral Ridge and plans to study at Mars College, North Carolina, with the intention of entering the missionary field.

Reports Of Local Progressive Ventures Stir Midwest Recreation Conference Held At Madison, Wisconsin, Last Week.

The eyes of the nation are definitely trained on the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board's program. This was evident at the 22d Annual Conference of the Midwest states, which Charlie Vettner attended last week at Madison, Wis.

The Jefferson County represents the only unit of its kind functioning in the United States today. Other states have spotted programs in some counties but none has a purely county set-up such as fostered here. With Jefferson County taking the lead, representatives from other Midwest states were anxious to know how it was done and how they could accomplish the same thing.

The Jefferson County program drew public comment from Mr. Weir, high-ranking official for the National Recreation Association, and from Charles Reed, executive director of the National Recreation Association, who had come to Jefferson County because of his field work with the National Recreation Association.

Mr. Reed said that he was amazed at the amount accomplished in Jefferson County in one year's time. Mr. Weir told the group about the great Jefferson County forest area and the Jefferson County representative told how they would be used.

Delegates from the Midwest states were amazed at the rural recreation pioneered here in Jefferson County. Such programs as Farm Field Day, the county fair at Jeffersonstown May 11; the Oklahoma Hiking Bee, and recreation which causes farmers to think together for good, wholesome fun, and recreation in terms of games, but not in terms of turning farm work into play.

Awards will be given skillful plowman in two age classes, and best sowing and best plowing in three events in each class.

The ability with which a cow or tractor, two-furrow or one-furrow outfit, will be judged according to the plan now conducted by the Jefferson County Board of Recreation will be an innovation east of the Mississippi.

Awards will be given skillful plowman in two age classes, and best sowing and best plowing in three events in each class.

The purpose of Work Day is to level off two baseball fields, and to get all things in readiness for the opening of the summer program.

"It's fun to work for children we love," is the keynote of the day.

For the women and girls, there will be the milking contest under the direction of Bob Lytle, field agent for the local dairy co-operative. Cows will be furnished and girls contestants will use a beer bottle for milk bucket. The judges will decide the winner on the basis of milk in the bottle, milk on the outside of bottle, and milk on the ground.

Awards will be given for first, second and third places in each contest. The announcement last week that the county would sponsor the contest was an error. The cooperative sponsored the recent F. A. Field Day.

The Farmers' Field Day has been a new experience. Delegates to that convention reported that Charlie Vettner, local representative, to send them all details of the Jefferson County program with a view of holding similar celebrations in their own communities.

Lyndon Teen-Agers Are Organized Now

The teen-agers of Lyndon have organized their own club under the direction of Ray Baer and with the assistance of the Lyndon Recreation Association. A large and enthusiastic group of teenagers will meet every Saturday night in the auditorium of the Lyndon School.

All members are co-operative, and the club is going strong. Although a name has not yet been chosen, the club, the admission has been set at 20 cents, and the following officers have been elected: Bill Conner, vice-president; Ruth Kirby, secretary; and Edward Ruth, treasurer.

There is special interest in the game and folk dances, which are being taught, as well as in the games. The present goal is the purchase of a juke box to supplement the piano.

5,000 School Children In Track Meet, Tuesday

More than 5,000 boys and girls of Jefferson County High Schools and Grade Schools will participate in a series of field days to be held at 20 county schools, Tuesday, May 14.

Arranged by the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, the teachers of most of the county schools have entered into the spirit of the plan and there has been much practice in running, jumping and other track events during the past week.

At Mill Creek School plans have developed to a point where the day will be observed by a complete schedule of athletic events and practically 100 per cent participation. The public has been invited and from the past there will be a huge attendance from the Dixie Highway area to observe the events.

T. T. Knight, energetic Oklahoma principal, predicts a lot of improvement in recreational facilities in the Oklahoma community after the Work Day Program has been completed.

The purpose of Work Day is to level off two baseball fields, and to get all things in readiness for the opening of the summer program.

Bardstown Road News

By Mrs. Falden Frederick
One of the loveliest showers of the season was given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Neal Kaufman at their home in honor of their son, Alden Kaufman, and Miss Janet Ewing, who will be married in June. The shower table, which was placed between the folding doors connecting the dining room and parlor, was beautifully decorated in cut flowers. A Chinese parasol was suspended above and crepe paper resembling rain was festooned from points of the parasol to the corners of the table, which was loaded with packages tied in tissue paper and ribbons. Several concessions and games were enjoyed and delightful refreshments of brick ice cream, cookies and punch were served. About fifty guests were present and a happy evening was spent, all wishing this splendid young couple the best of things in this life.

A group from Newburg Christian Church served the dinner, consisting of brick ice cream and chocolate fudge cake, to about three hundred soldiers and some civilians at the Y. U. S. O. in Louisville Sunday evening. The rest of the supper was served by a Presbyterian church of Louisville and a chapter of War Mothers.

Mrs. Liddie Sewell passed away April 27 at her home on Brenlinger Lane. She leaves to mourn her death her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Liddie Sewell, and her son, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Jones. Mrs. Mary Clark, Mrs. Henry Sewell and Mrs. Carl Sewell were guests of Mrs. Liddie. Two great-grandchildren and two brothers also survive.

Newburg News

By Mrs. J. H. Baldwin.
There was a large crowd at Sunday School, but we missed our faithful ones so very much. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Lilly. Mr. Cook had to work, which was very much against his will, and Mr. Cook was sick. The adult teacher was also absent, but Mr. Fredrick taught the class and did it well. Mr. Stivers preached at Cooper Memorial Methodist Church.
Mr. S. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Katie Lent and Mrs. J. H. Shively enjoyed services at the South Louisville Church last Sunday night, where a revival is going on. Brother Olin Hay, the pastor, is holding it and he is fine. Wish Newburg could locate one like Brother Hay.
Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hart had many visitors Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Thompson and Mrs. C. R. Hart were callers in the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stivers and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Thompson, Friday evening.
Mr. L. P. Jones last week visited Mr. J. S. Hart to accompany him to Brandenburg and New Castle, where Mr. Jones attended business meetings. Mr. Hart enjoyed driving through the country and seeing the fine farms, especially in the Bluegrass section.

The following were at after-church dinner guests Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Shively and J. S. Hart; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hinde, Mr. and Mrs. B. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Davis. Afternoon callers were Mr. Dallas Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bennett and daughter, Jean, of Newburg. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bennett came for the Derby.
Mrs. L. P. Jones and Mrs. J. H. Shively accompanied Mr. Jones to Shelbyville Friday night. Mr. Jones addressed a large audience there.
Mother's Day will be observed at Newburg Sunday.
Mrs. O'Connor will be at Newburg Sunday, May 26, at 11 a. m. and enjoyed by all. They each had a wonderful time.

We were all glad to see Mr. Duval Bruce come marching in from the Army.
Mrs. Frank Bradbury had as bed-time guests Tuesday night, Mr. and Mrs. William Badgett and son, James.
Mr. and Mrs. Noel Bruce and family motored to Louisville, Ky., Sunday and visited Mrs. Bruce's father, Mr. Henry Feltner.
Mrs. Hattie Scott has been on the sick list lately. We hope she will soon get well.
Mr. and Mrs. B. Carey and family visited her brother, Mr. Robert Sanders, and Mrs. Sanders, Sunday. Other visitors in the same home were Mrs. Nora Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton McCowan, Mr. and Mrs. James Akerage, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Akerage and Mrs. Blanche Douglas and children.
Mrs. Roy Hamilton had the misfortune of getting poison oak on her face. Hope she soon gets rid of it.

Oak Grove News

By Mrs. M. B. Graham

Bro. E. E. Shoulters, Louisville, filled his appointment at Oak Grove Church Sunday, both morning and evening.

Mr. Orville Mills arrived home Sunday, April 27, from Fort Lewis, Wash., where he has been in training for five months. He was one of 27, out of a company of 150 engineers, chosen as supervisor. After a short visit with his wife, Mrs. Orville Mills, he will go to Camp Kilmer, N. J., where he will embark for overseas duty.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thacker called Sunday afternoon to see Mr. K. S. Mills at Buechel. Mr. Mills is in a very frail condition. His daughter, Mrs. Freeman, of Abilene, Texas, is with him.

Mr. E. T. McAfee had several callers Sunday afternoon. They were Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster, Mr. Albert Flaher, Mr. Hodges, Mr. Melba Lent, Reverend Moon and Mrs. Moon and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thacker.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thacker spent Sunday, April 28, in Lawrenceburg, Ky. Mr. Thacker's sister whom we went especially to see, has been ill for about a year and was quite poorly when we saw her. We spent most of the day with another sister, Mrs. Susie McKinley. Mr. Raymond Thacker was present.

County Baseball League Gets Start

The six-team Sunday Afternoon Senior Baseball League, sponsored by the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board, got under way Sunday with Middletown defeating Okolona 12-5.

Vance Walker's Middletown crew showed promise of being hard to beat as they slugged their way to victory. Lloyd Reedman's Okolona team gave warning that the team will be hard to beat, once a little practice is stored away under their baseball gloves.

Go To Lexington
Valley High School, under the direction of Miss Laverne Blake, will be represented at the State Music Festival held at Lexington Friday, May 10, as a result of the Regional Music Festival held at Shelbyville, April 27.

The girls, who were rated superior in the vocal solo division at the regional tournament and will participate in the State are Louise Morrow, senior Betty Ann Thomas, senior and Betty Ann Collins, sophomore.

Other participants at the regional and their ratings were the girls' trio, excellent; male quartet, excellent; mixed quartet, excellent; Corwin Kickett, baritone soloist, excellent; La Veece Strain, contralto, good; W. L. Miller, baritone, good; girls' trio, good; also a mixed quartet in the non-competitive group.

The Valley Music Department had the program for the P-T-A Council Wednesday, May 8, at the Seebach Hotel.

Middletown Scouts Attending Camp

The Boy Scouts of Troop 12 of Middletown are attending camp-ree at Camp Tanoana, waka this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, where they have to make a good showing in competition with other troops.

Voluntary contributions, which have been received recently, made it possible for the troop to have some new kitchen equipment for the camping trip for which they are very grateful. A paper drive will start Monday, May 13. Persons who have old papers and magazines are requested to save them for the scouts. Middletown and Anchor area will be canvassed and persons outside this area are requested to call Anchorage 4184 and the papers will be collected.

Schwab, Messrs. Ronald Klingensmith, Carl M. Schwab, David Rael, Fred Schwab, Fred Burkhardt and Elmer Kachin.

Pfc. Hazael A. Albert and Cpl. Lawrence Edwards spent last week end at home on three-day passes from Ft. Benning, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Miller of Staff Sgt. W. D. Huddleston arrived home Sunday night from Camp Carson, Colo., to spend a day furlough with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Huddleston.

Miss Aline Wigington underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils, Monday morning at St. Joseph's. She left the hospital Wednesday and is at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. T. Thomas, in Louisville. At last report she was doing fine.

Royce Hedden, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Hedden, was honorably discharged from the army this week at Camp Aterbury, Ind. after 15 months service in Europe.

County Church News

Jeffersontown Christian Church School Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, classes for all ages. Morning worship and communion at 11. Mother's Day message, "The Set of the Soul."

There will be no Sunday evening service in order that all may attend the baccalaureate services for the 1946 class of Jeffersontown High School. Dr. Homer W. Carpenter, pastor of the First Christian Church, Louisville, is to be the speaker.

Christ Lutheran, Jeffersontown Sunday School at 9:30. Elmer Schmeider, superintendent. Morning worship at 10:40. The sermon will be delivered by County School Superintendent Orville J. Stivers. The service will be in charge of John Alvey. A hearty welcome is extended to you to attend services and hear Mr. J. E. Stumberger, D. D., Pastor.

Jeffersontown Baptist Sunday School at 9:45; morning worship at 10:50. Sermon subject, "Atonement." Training union at 6:30. The evening service has been dismissed because of the baccalaureate service at the high school. Vacation Bible School will be held at 3 through June County registration at 10 o'clock Friday morning, May 31.

Recreation Study Enrolls 30 Leaders

Thirty men and women broke the ice in the Jefferson County Playground and Recreation Board Institute on Monday night, April 8. Ray Buser opened the meeting and introduced Charlie Vetterli and Shirley Durham. They gave reports on Recreation Conference trips to Berea, Ky., and Madison, Wis. Al Root then explained and taught some square dance figures.

The evening was an enjoyable one and came to a close when all participants fell into their chairs for a rest. Everyone realized, however, they had learned something in relation to the old square dances.

Miss Marguerite Clayton and Miss Shirley Durham will continue the sessions with music and folk activities.

District Homemakers Meet At LaGrange

By Mrs. J. M. Ehlen
The Thirteenth District Meeting of Kentucky Federation of Homemakers for North Central District was held at La Grange Meeting Church May 2. Kentucky has seven districts: Pinechase, Pennyrivall, South Central, North Central, North Blue Grass, Mountain and South Blue Grass.

The North Central District is made up of ten counties: Anderson, Carroll, Franklin, Henry, Jefferson, Nelson, Oldham, Owen, Shelby, and Laramie. At noon 357 had registered with 141 from Jefferson County. Oldham had 10 and Shelby 75. These three had the largest attendance.

The Citizenship chairman, Mrs. Stuart Wauson of Shelby County, reported that Jefferson County Homemakers gave two thousand dollars to the Red Cross, 22 clubs sent Christmas packages to veterans' hospitals and 140 entertained soldiers in their homes. All clubs contributed to Red Cross and war effort, 350 pints of blood was donated by Homemakers and one Henry County woman gave six pints of blood.

Other speakers were Miss Anna Parker, Publicity Chairman of Carroll County, Mrs. A. H. Davis, Reading chairman of Henry County, Mrs. N. A. Stoner, Speaker Bureau Chairman of Nelson County, Mrs. W. E. Nichols, Fayette County, president of Kentucky Homemakers, Miss Myrtle Weldon of Lexington, Ky., leader of Home Demonstration agents, whose subject was "Building a Strong Home Front." She said they were anxious to extend the work to more counties but the lack of money to carry on prevented it. One hundred counties in the U. S. are still without Demonstration agents, fifty-five of these in Kentucky. There are five negro agents serving twelve counties where the colored population is thickest.

Mr. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture, in his talk, praised Home Demonstration Agents and stated that Homemakers' Clubs have been federated for fourteen years, their work reaching Hawaii, Alaska, and Porto Rico.

Mrs. Wanda Wilkins of Sao Paulo, Brazil, spoke on "Building Inter-American Understanding." She told many interesting things about her country which is two hundred and fifty thousand square miles larger than the U. S. and has very rich resources. Their population is forty-two million; forty-two per cent of which is illiterate. Their native tongue is Portuguese. They furnished the U. S. sixteen war materials for war and they produce eighty per cent of the rubber in the world.

Brazil is serving bread on her tables only three times a week now, that Europe might have some. Bannans are now high in Brazil, costing five cents a dozen. They are usually five cents a stalk. Wages are ten to fifteen cents a day. High wages are thirty-five to forty cents. The display of articles from Brazil made Mrs. Wilkin's talk the more interesting.

TELEPHONES FOR FARMERS a Big Part of Our Expansion Activities

We're busily engaged in rural telephone service extension, which is a major objective of our current expansion activities.

Farm telephone service does more than provide the convenience of the telephone to people in rural areas. It places more and more farm residents in contact with people and businesses in town, and in turn puts these people in contact with the farm families... makes telephone service more valuable and beneficial to all.

State Leader Urges Food Production To Save Hungry People

Production of a year-round food supply, coupled with a decrease in the consumption of foods which will ship such as wheat and fats, were recommended to farm and rural people by Miss Myrtle Weldon, state leader of home demonstration work, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, as a means of alleviating severe food shortages in other countries. Miss Weldon praised farm and rural families for having done an excellent job during the war in growing gardens and other food adding to the food supply. "However," she said, "the time of relaxation will not arrive until the agriculture of war-torn countries has been at least partially restored. Their immediate full production is impossible without seed, fertilizer and equipment, and with much of their farm land mined or pockmarked with bomb craters and full of shrapnel. The more we can produce, the more we can release to meet these needs so vital to building a lasting peace."

"Let us remember that it is always good business for farm families to produce their own food supply in order to have the best at minimum cost, assure good nutrition, save money for the purchase of conveniences, improvements and comforts, and to protect the family against potential shortages."

"A year-round food supply is the result of having a well planned garden, home poultry flock, family cow, home butchered meat, and such supplementary products as are produced locally such as sorghum, meal, flour and honey. Based on the problems of food by canning, drying, freezing and storing."

Produce Egg Price Minimum of 27c Dose

Moving jointly to call attention to depressed producer egg prices, two agricultural officials here today called attention to provisions of the United States Department of Agriculture price support program under which egg producers may avail themselves of a minimum average price of 27 cents a dozen, loose basis.

M. D. Royce and Thomas P. Cooper, State Directors of the United States Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration and of the Agricultural Extension Service, respectively, disclosed that reports indicate that in more than 20 of the State's 120 counties, farmers last week were receiving prices for their products at a level to meet most current export commitments, at the profitable levels, and to help meet current export commitments. With milk production on farms around 4 billion quarts a year higher than before the war, the supply cannot keep up with the demand. "Milk is our most widely used food," the Foundation says, "and the largest single source of cash farm income. Cash from milk is larger than cattle or hogs, over twice cotton, wheat, corn and four times tobacco. Farm income from milk for 1945 is expected to exceed $1 billion dollars when final figures are completed."

"Milk and its products comprise more than 25 percent of the foods estimated to be consumed annually by the average American. Consumers use more than 50 million quarts of milk and cream a day," the Foundation says in its annual statistical review of the industry.

Home Demonstration Week To Be Observed

In observance of National Home Demonstration Week, May 5 to 12, Miss Myrtle Weldon, state leader of home demonstration work, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, points out some of the results of the program carried by home agents, specialists and supervisors in 66 counties in the state.

Home demonstration work in Kentucky has been the problem of rural people and determined by them, is given through organized homemakers' clubs with a membership of 16,847; of that number 11,209 members served as leaders. More than 110,260 farm and family members report having adopted improvements in home and family living last year. The spread of information from neighbor to neighbor can scarcely be estimated, said Miss Weldon. As during the war, home agents, specialists and supervisors, being stressed, but in addition, homemakers are interested in housing, health and consumer problems.

CATTLE SHOW TO BE HELD AT BOURBON

Louisville, Ky.—May 2, a new Christmas-time cattle show will be held at the Bourbon Stock Yards here. It was announced today after a meeting of the executive committee of the Bourbon Stock Beef Association, Inc. December 17 and 18, 1946, are the dates selected for the judging. These dates have been approved by the Louisville Livestock Exchange, which will manage the show.

A cash prize of $1,000 will be paid for the grand champion Bourbon Beef steer, and $500 for the reserve champion single steer. A grand prize of $1,000 will also be paid for the first-prize carload of 15 Bourbon Beef steers. The prize total $5,000. The single Bourbon Beef steers will be divided into three classes—steers weighing 900 pounds or less, steers weighing from 900 to 1,050 pounds, and steers weighing 1,050 pounds or more. The prize in these three classes run from $100 for 1st to $10 for the 15th premium.

A Bourbon Beef steer is any steer or spayed heifer which has been dried or distillers' dried grains as a supplement to the ration. Both feeds are by-products of the distilleries and consist of dehydrated stillage which is high in protein, vitamins and minerals.

NITRATE BOOSTS TIMOTHY
Ben Hutchison of Adair County sowed 10 acres to timothy this spring. With the exception of a strip along one side the field received 80 pounds of ammonium nitrate to the acre. A few weeks after seeding the untreated strip could be picked out as far as the field could be seen, says County Agent R. B. Rankin.

KENTUCKY WAR VETERANS RECORD MILK DRINKERS

RETURNING VETERANS Drinking Milk in Record Quantities Have Helped Reduce Consumption to All-time High Levels, According to the Milk Industry

Drinking milk in record quantities has helped reduce consumption to all-time high levels, according to the Milk Industry Foundation. With milk production on farms around 4 billion quarts a year higher than before the war, the supply cannot keep up with the demand. "Milk is our most widely used food," the Foundation says, "and the largest single source of cash farm income. Cash from milk is larger than cattle or hogs, over twice cotton, wheat, corn and four times tobacco. Farm income from milk for 1945 is expected to exceed $1 billion dollars when final figures are completed."

"Milk and its products comprise more than 25 percent of the foods estimated to be consumed annually by the average American. Consumers use more than 50 million quarts of milk and cream a day," the Foundation says in its annual statistical review of the industry.

New Methods of Distribution Efficiently Developed

"Milk during the war was popular and surveys show that the very-day distribution plan and other economies save consumers 1 cent or more per quart. The government's farm feed subsidy makes possible an additional saving to consumers averaging around 1 1/2 cents a quart."

"Today with production and distribution of milk at the highest levels in history, the United States is the largest of the nations. This war has proved how economical

Kentucky's 610,000 cows on farms each produce an average of 1,637 quarts of milk. Total milk production was 999,000,000 quarts in 1945. In addition to the large quantities consumed for food, Kentucky milk was used for making 21,346,000 pounds of creamery butter, 3,698,000 gallons of ice cream and other products. Farm cash income totaled $39,985,000.

The GARDEN
By JOHN S. GARDNER

EARLY INSECTS

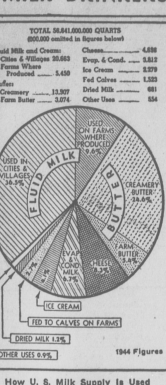

The first insects to come will likely be plant lice on cabbage. Their sign is the curling of the leaves or the stunting of the plant. One control is spraying with strong tobacco tea or with Blue Leaf solution; another is rotenone dust, the kind used for the Mexican bean beetle.

Green worms soon will appear on cabbage, for already the familiar white or yellow "butterflies" are seen feeding as they alight on the plants. As cabbage worms are chewing insects, the recommendation is to deal with calcium arsenate and lime, 1 part to 6, but only until heading begins. After that, only rotenone dust is safe.

Next will come the Colorado beetle and the black flea beetle on potatoes. The arsenical dust described serves admirably against the Colorado beetle and has some effect on the other; there is no poisoning danger, as the arsenic cannot possibly get into the tubers as some persons fear. A spray meant specifically for flea beetle control is Bordeaux mixture, effective, too, in offsetting blight injury of potato vines.

BEGULING DATE DRESS

To capture that "little girl" look combine a high, rounded neckline with organically rolling, soft shoulders that contour gracefully into cap sleeves, and a skirt of soft folds. Easy to make at home, this beguiling dress would be lovely in beige, icy blue, misty green or pale yellow. A leaflet with valuable information on made-at-home trimmings, SIX TRIMMING TRICKS, may be obtained free by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, asking for Leaflet No. M 624.

How U. S. Milk Supply is Used

And valuable milk is as a food for the armed forces and civilians. Its products contain essentials of a good diet and the U. S. Public Health Service says, "of all products, none is more important than milk."

Americans enjoy the finest milk in the world efficiently and economically distributed. The U. S. system of milk supply and distribution is one of the country's outstanding economic assets.

An excellent plan would be to lay out a spray program of three sprays, using Bordeaux to which calcium arsenate is added, two between tablespoons per gallon. Directions for making and using Bordeaux are given in Kentucky Extension Circular 376, obtainable from county extension agents, or by writing the college, Lexington.

It may not be amiss to discuss the insecticide, DDT. Although deadly to all insects except the Mexican bean beetle, it may be used on cabbage and lettuce. It is known that vegetable leaves may absorb it, this rule out its use on cabbage and greens. It stops the striped beetle on vine crops, but kills the plant.

Therefore, until more has been learned about DDT, vegetable gardeners need not complicate their present practices by adding it to their insecticide list, except possibly for potato insects, and then only on large plantings.

TOMATOES

Because of their ease of growing and because they make so large a return for the space they occupy, tomatoes are among the most profitable vegetables. A dozen well-kept plants can produce 2 1/2 bushels of fruit, or more than 40 quarts when canned. As fresh tomatoes, that amount, 150 pounds will earn a gardener handsome wages.

If there is not enough room for a full garden, perhaps space can be found for tomatoes. There is still time. Setting date for Lexington's latitude is May 5 to 10.

A fence-row, but not a hedge, makes a good location. Twelve plants set 3 feet apart need a space 40 by 3 feet. Over this broadcast evenly 5 pounds of any good complete fertilizer, spade it under and cut it in. Finish with a rake, beating up any clods.

Stretch a line down the middle, along which make holes for the plants. In each set a plant, then pour in a half-pint of water; when it has settled, fill in the soil, firming lightly. The plants would stand an inch deeper than in the plant bed.

To keep this garden in good order, the plants should be staked. Stakes should be about 1 1/2 inches square and 5 feet long, 12 inches in the ground. Pruning of plants should be done to three stems, keeping the main shoot and the first two that start at the base of the plant, but removing all others as they form. When the growth reaches the top of the stakes, the plants should be beheaded, having set about 20 clusters of fruit.

Ties of soft twine or strips of rag should be made under every fruit cluster. Tomatoes are not all that may come from this garden; about August 1, a fall garden may be sowed of a half ounce of Siberian radish seed.

Good tomatoes in the order of earliness, but all suitable for this purpose are: Break O' Day, Valiant, Stokedale, Marjole, and Rutgers.

Bourbon Beef Group Is Incorporated Here

Louisville, April 25—A Certificate of Incorporation by the Secretary of State of the Commonwealth of Kentucky for a non-profit organization known as the Bourbon Beef Association was received here today. The objects of the new educational association are to conserve the feed wastes from the distilling industry, to educate farmers in the most economical uses of distillers' dried grains and dried solubles, and to popularize a new market type of cattle known as "Bourbon Beef."

The elected officers of the new association are: Samuel R. Guard, President; J. O. Matlock, vice-president; L. M. Sanders, treasurer; and Capt. J. R. Rash, Jr., secretary. Mr. Guard is editor of "Breeder's Gazette," a national livestock journal; Mr. Matlock is editor of the "Kentucky Farmer's Home Journal"; Mr. Sanders is president of the Stock Yards Bank, Louisville; and Capt. Rash is a purebred livestock fieldman.

I've been trying for weeks to buy a pencil sharpener—one of those into which you stick a pencil.

I'd pay $5 for a good one. (They used to be $1 or less.)

You see, I'm ready to stick an infestation in pencil sharpeners, because there are so few on the market.

There are probably strikes in the pencil sharpening factories. Or there may be government cuttings on pencil sharpeners which make it impossible for anybody to make 'em.

If strikes and restrictions were ended, it would be long until I could soon get my pencil sharpener for about 40 cents. Factories would be busy. Men would have jobs. Stores would make a profit. And I'd be happy.

See County Agent If In Need of a Job

Men, women and older boys and girls who are willing to work on farms do the coming months to harvest strawberry and other crops, should file their applications at county agent offices, according to William B. Ball, state farm labor supervisor at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

County agents are prepared to place the worker immediately upon demand by the farmer, he said.

Mr. Ball predicted that strawberry and other crops will be
